PAPA JOHN'S PIZZA REMAINS OPEN FOR BUSINESS DURING CORONAVIRUS DISEASE PANDEMIC

We are Open for Business and Ready to Serve Customers No Matter What

STANTON, Kentucky--March 30, 2020 All Papa John's Pizza locations will remain open for business for curbside carry-out and delivery regardless of the total starting March 30, 2020 to continue serving our customers like we have since 1984.

"It is important during these times of uncertainty that we help each other out," says CEO Rob Lynch. "Times are tough, and we want to guarantee anyone a Papa John's Pizza that wants one, so we are doing away with the $25 minimum order amount for delivery." From now on all customers will be able to get any order delivered regardless of the total.

Papa John's Pizza values customer satisfaction and is here to provide for customers in the cleanliest way possible. For all deliveries we are implementing a no contact delivery. "We are quite literally taking the pizza from the oven to the box with no hand contact and using a Quality Seal, so that you know the box hasn't been opened," says Kyle Smith who is a pizza delivery guy from the Lexington, Kentucky Papa John's location.

Papa John's Pizza is committed to serving their customers no matter what is happening to ensure hope and positivity in a time of uncertainty. They are ready to serve loyal customers and support the community.

Papa John's Pizza was founded in 1984 by John Schnatter. There are over 5,000 locations worldwide and is the number one pizza of the National Football League (NFL). For more information visit www.papajohns.com.
